The Paddington

The cornice that doesn't Date

With more than 30 variations of the Classic cornice to choose from, it means that if you want one of the larger styles in the living areas, you can follow the Paddington Theme all the way through with smaller styles into smaller rooms.

It is called the Paddington because it has its heritage in the early 1900s in inner Sydney, BUT it truly has become "the one that doesn't date". Though it is often used in renovations for homes from that period, it has found a new home amongst 21st century home builders.
